CRYPTO CURRENCY?

A cryptocurrency is a digital or virtual currency that is secured by cryptography and cannot be double-spent on a distributed network. It is often based on blockchain technology, which is a decentralized ledger that stores the history of transactions securely.

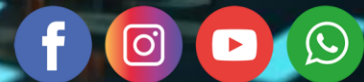

FOREX TRADING ?

At its core, Forex trading involves speculating on the price movements of currency pairs. The forex market is decentralized, meaning that it does not have a physical location or centralized exchange. Instead, transactions occur over-the-counter (OTC) through a global network of banks, brokers, and financial institutions operating 24 hours a day, five days a week.

Currency pairs are quoted in terms of base and quote currencies. For example, in the pair EUR/USD, the euro is the base currency, and the U.S. dollar is the quote currency. If the EUR/USD pair is trading at 1.20, it means 1 euro is worth 1.20 U.S. dollars.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE ?

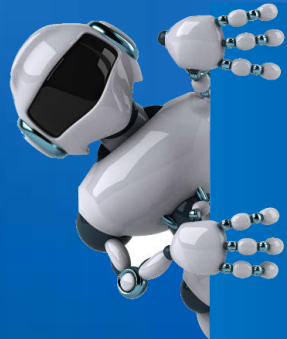

Artificial intelligence refers to the capability of machines, particularly computer systems, to simulate human intelligence processes. Common applications of AI include expert systems, natural language processing (NLP), speech recognition, and machine vision.

As excitement about AI has surged, companies are eager to showcase how their products and services leverage this technology. However, what they describe as "AI" often encompasses established technologies like machine learning.
